Newly appointed members of Chicago's police force have such names as Majorie, Lulu, Clara, Alice and Marie. Wrongdoers may well tremble lest in the presence of these vigilant guardians of the public they commit some horrid breach of etiquette.

The National Association for the study and prevention of Tuberculosis is warns the public that no less than five hundred fraudulent "cures" for consumption have found victims in this country within the past few years, at a profit of fully $50,000,000 to the exploiters. The association makes it plain that no specific cure for tuberculosis has been discovered, except the well-tried method of fresh air, rest, and good food.

Mrs. CORA WILSON STEWART, originator of the "moonlit schools" in Kentucky, has taught more than a thousand illiterate adults to read and write inside of two years. She began her campaign in September 1911, with the result that every school in Rowan county now conducts classes every moonlit night of the year, excepting Sundays. The pupils range from 6 years of age to well along in the 80's. In fact, a woman of 86 was among Mrs. Stewart's first night pupils. The work thus begun has spread to eight other counties and bids fair to wipe out illiteracy in the Kentucky mountains.

The Value of Birds to the Farmer.

Prof. W. T. Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological Park, says that if birds were as numerous today as they were sixty years ago, it would mean a saving of many million dollars to American farmers. The slaughter of migratory birds is surely followed by the increase of destructive insects. Among the best of the farmer's bird friends are the woodpeckers, especially the red-headed members of the species.

In proof, one careful observer says: "A pair of them nested in a cottonwood-tree near my uncle's orchard one year. One day I watched them through a pair of opera glasses. The young birds were about half grown. The parents made ninety-six trips in one hour, each time with a worm. It is safe to say they saved ninety-six apples in that hour—a lot worth six, say one dollar. If the birds worked ten hours a day, they were worth ten dollars to my uncle, or, in the three weeks the birds were in the nest, $210. Can a farmer afford to kill a woodpecker?"

Asthenia.

"Asthenia" means "without strength," and it describes a condition of general debility. Nerve weakness is "neurasthenia," and muscular weakness is "myasthenia"; but the word without any prefix whatever means a general weakness of the system that the sufferer brings into life with him, in infancy a child with asthenia is incapable of prolonged muscular effort. The normal baby screams lustily and kicks vigorously, but the asthenic baby cries feebly, as if fatigued, and nurses with slow and feeble movements.

Such children cut their first teeth late, with a good deal of digestive disturbance; they catch diseases easily, and are slow to stand and walk. The motor apparatus—that is, the nerves and muscles used in moving the body—is not, and probably never will be, capable of much hard work.

In later years, especially during adolescence, life goes more hardily with the asthenic person. His lack of stamina may show itself in any one of a number of ways—among others backache, chorea, weak eyes, weak heart, slowness of wit, poor digestion, or undue fatigue after ordinary exertion. These symptoms all indicate that the asthenic person cannot work or play like other people, but must arrange his life with regard to his constitutional weakness.

Many asthenics are persons of superior intelligence and moral force, and they often offset their physical limitations by an exercise of will. The ability thus to exert the will and to triumph over fatigue marks the difference between them and the neurasthenic or the simple indolent.

The greatest mistake a person of the asthenic type can make is to use his will power in an effort to keep up with normal people in their work and play. He can often hold his own in the battle of life—surprisingly well, but he cannot do it by "burning the candle at both ends." Success in life for the asthenic means a careful conversation of all the vital forces from hour to hour.

Protect Your Children's Eyes

THE greatest desire of parents is to see their children well nourished, strong and healthy—physically well equipped to make a success of life.

Yet, how many parents are there who endeavor to protect that most important sense of all—the eyesight of their children by providing the most suitable light for the study hours?

Modern methods of schooling and the necessity for completing their primary education at an early age imposes a severe tax on the eyes during the growing period of life. In many cases this strain weakens the eyes, or results in loss of sight simply because the little ones are compelled to study under a poor or improper light.

For Mazda Lamps—the most safe electric light to study by—for general home use, and furnish it at minimum cost.

Give your children the benefit of this light. We will be glad to advise you as to the most beneficial way to use Edison Mazda Lamps.

IHC Wagons Are Tough

Did you ever notice when one of the wheels of your loaded wagon dropped into a rut or bumped over a stone how the seat springs gave and rebounded, almost throwing you off? That is an indication of the shock and strain that the rigid spokes and axles have to stand whenever the wagon is traveling over a rough road or through a field. IHC wagons take these stresses and strains as a matter of course. From neckyoke to tail board they are built of selected, air-dried lumber, strong and tough, bending to strains but coming back as straight and true as ever when the load is removed. Besides being tough, IHC wagons are light running. The wheels have just the right pitch and gather, and run true. All skins and skein boxes are paired. The running gear is assembled by skilled workmen whose wages depend as much on the quality as on the quantity of the work they turn out. Consequently, IHC wagons are practically all of the same high standard of quality throughout.

Weber New Bettendorf Columbus or Steel King

Weber and Bettendorf wagons have wood gears; New Bettendorf and Steel King have steel gears. To learn which IHC wagon is best suited to your work and conditions, write our nearest office for interesting catalogues.

Local Mention.

Another primary Saturday.

Read the street and pavement ordinances.

Several persons are taking the anti-typhoid treatment.

Miss Eunice Woodward, of Huntsville, Mo., is a guest of Mrs. E. A. Taylor.

Miss Eunice Johnson, who is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, is now improving.

Mrs. Walton Parker, of Dawson Springs, has been a guest of Mrs. Jennie E. Roark for a few days.

Mr. Fred Irvin arrived from Louisville yesterday afternoon, driving through in a new 1914 model Ford touring car.

Buck Kilby says the more shiftless and improvident the man the more likely he is to own a second-hand automobile.

The cooler weather of the past few days has been exceedingly refreshing, and has in a measure made up for the lack of rain.

Prof. and Mrs. Oscar W. Irvin will arrive today from Toledo, Ohio, and will spend their vacation here with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Irvin.

The Citizens' party will hold its primary Saturday, and another large crowd will be drawn to town, and to all voting places in the county.

Milliners have begun to design fall hats and poets are writing Christmas verse, but the rest of the world is enjoying the summer weather.

Greenville has fallen in line, and we will build on streets on the plan being used wherever you find good streets—at the expense of the land owners.

Mrs. W. S. Gossett died at her home near Earles last Thursday afternoon, from a complication of ailments; burial was at East Union Friday afternoon, and was largely attended.

Water in the lake is holding well, but there is a bit of anxiety, as the demands against the supply are heavy, and heavy rains will be needed in the next few weeks, to keep us going.

The annual convention of Muhlenberg county Sunday-schools will be held here next Thursday and Friday, the sessions in the Methodist church. An excellent program has been arranged.

Miss Vay Hardwick, of Indianapolis, will arrive the first of the week, for a visit to Mrs. A. E. McCracken.

Madisonville recently voted $75,000 water bonds, and has an offer at par, but is seeking a better bidder. The bonds bear 5 per cent. interest.

The tent meeting, at the corner of College and Trowbridge streets, is drawing large attendance nightly, people coming from far and near. Much interest is being aroused, and great results are expected.

A light shower about noon Friday temporarily relieved the situation, but it was of short duration. Conditions are increasing in seriousness and many crops are beyond help, even if it should rain now. Bottom lands are not suffering so much, and a good rain soon would help out greatly.

Stop, Look, Listen!

See that magnificent new mill at the depot; nothing that equals it in the state. Have you used the Quail meal and Bob White flour they make? If not, patronize home industry and get the best.

Home Milling Co., Incorporated.

Mr. Robert Hardison received a telegram Tuesday from Attorney General McKennedy notifying him of his appointment as Assistant Attorney General, his duties in the Indian land claims department, with headquarters at Muskogee, Okla., where he will report for duty about the middle of the month. Mr. Hardison is being congratulated on his appointment, but we regret to lose him and his family.

On the 15th inst. important changes in the parcel post regulation will take effect, and still there is room for more. One of the most needed features is that books, pictures, printed matter be allowed to be sent; in fact, every sort of merchandise that is mailable should be forwarded by parcel post.

Mr. Buren Martin has been laid up from a novel accident; last Wednesday night he kicked a stick from beneath a window, and was awakened when the stick caught two of his toes, removing one nail and causing considerable pain from lacerations. Buren says that hereafter he hopes to do his kicking when awake, when he can have some selection in the matter, and make his activities more effective and less hurtful to himself.

Owners of land are the ones who should pay for improvements, for private or public use. We have caught the swing, and our city council has passed an ordinance providing for streets to be constructed at the joint expense of the land owners each side. It is the only solution of the problem, as the revenues of the city are not sufficient to provide water, lights, police and fire protection, street cleaning, etc., and also build the streets.

Miss Lena Arnold asks the patronage of the public, and guarantees that satisfactory work will be done in her clothes cleaning, pressing and repairing shop.

THE RECORD 50c per year.

Democratic Primary Names Candidates.

Democrats gathered in vast numbers at the various voting places in the county last Saturday, and polled more than 2,300 votes in the general contest of party leaders. There was general quiet everywhere, not the least disorder occurring. Some surprises were in store for even the most astute politicians, a few of the nominees not being considered as winners; of course all the defeated candidates were surprised, as all had greatest hopes. Following is the ticket as named:

Representative, Ed Frost.
County Judge, J. J. Rice.
County Clerk, Leo Fentress.
County Attorney, W. H. Gray.
Sheriff, Robert Wickliff.
Assessor, Andrew T. Glenn.
Jailer, Chas. W. Stoval.
Superintendent of Schools, Miss Amy M. Longest.
Coroner, Geo. B. Young.
Magistrates: First district, Barney E. Roll; second, J. T. Perkins; third, J. T. Langley; fourth, Wes Hill; fifth, Andrew J. Browning.

The ticket is well balanced, and is considered very strong, and there will be a stiff fight put up for the victory again in November.

Judge Sandidge Resigns.

Hon. W. P. Sandidge, of Russellville, circuit judge of the Seventh judicial district, composed of the counties of Logan, Todd, Muhlenberg and Simpson counties, has sent his resignation to Gov. McCreary, and will move to Owensboro to become a member of the law firm of Miller, Sandidge & Malin. The news came as a great surprise to the people of the district, and causes general regret, as Judge Sandidge is considered one of the best men on the bench in the state, and has a host of sincere admirers everywhere. In his new connection he will yield a large influence, as his legal talents are of the highest type, and he will at once step into a large and varied practice that will yield much greater income than the salary he has drawn. Mr. J. C. Browder, of Russellville, is being recommended for the vacancy, the attorneys throughout the district interesting themselves in the matter. There are few better qualified men in the state for the position, and the Governor would not be able to secure a more competent man.

7. What diseases does the fly carry? He carries typhoid fever, consumption and summer complaint. How? On his wings and hairy feet. What is his correct name? Typhoid fly.
8. Did he ever kill anyone? He killed more American soldiers in the Spanish American War than did the bullets of the Spaniards.

13. How? Keep the stables dry and clean and don't allow any manure to stay on the premises longer than one week. Have all other filth and trash accumulating on your premises removed or burned at least once a week.
14. If your neighbor fails to comply with these rules and allows flies to breed on his premises to visit you, screen your doors and keep them out.

Helps With the Lessons

At night when the children gather around the sitting-room table studying their lessons for the next day, the telephone often rings. A little neighbor a mile down the road wants help from his school-mates. Children as well as grown-ups get pleasure and profit from the farm telephone. Do you know how little this service costs and how valuable it is?

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—Letter to Mothers.

Anxious mothers often wonder why their children are so pale, thin and nervous and have so little appetite. For the benefit of such mothers in this vicinity we publish the following letter.

Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn., says: "My little daughter, ever since her birth, had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago we commenced to give her Vinol. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim."

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cod's livers, combined with the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol.

Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children, old people and the weak, run-down and debilitated. We return the money in every case where it fails.

A State Wide Invitation

Monster Barbecue to Be Given by J. N. Camden
at Versailles, Aug. 20, 1913

This meeting of farmers and their families who are interested in the agricultural advancement of Kentucky is to be held at Versailles, Ky., on the 20th of August, 1913. It is to be a great farmers' convention, a place where, besides the "getting together" there will be speakers who really have something to say to the man who gets his living from the soil.

In the past few years, which is long, of smoking, jolly men and their families, spending the day, and night, and a warning of party spirit. This barbecue is a definite effort to give the farmers of the state a chance to meet and get acquainted and to hear some of the strongest speakers in the whole country discuss vital farm questions. These speakers will be brought to the meeting from the north, south, east and west, and, as they are to be limited to thirty minutes each, they will be sure to send their messages home in quick, short sentences. The list of speakers is about complete.

WHERE THE BARBECUE WILL BE HELD.

It will be given in full in the next article, which will be published soon. Kentucky is thoroughly aroused educationally, and this meeting is an outgrowth of this great wave of enthusiasm.

When your correspondent visited the Camden farm, just outside of Versailles, a few days ago he was shown the various points of interest that the visitor might wish to inspect. Competent men will be in charge of each farm department so that questions by visitors may be answered quickly.

In visiting the dairy farm, with its carefully selected herd of seventy-five Jerseys, it was pleasing to note that the barn had originally been used for

J. N. CAMDEN.

VERSAILLES, KENTUCKY.

TO THE FARMERS OF KENTUCKY.

For a quarter of a century the great problems of manufacturing and of transportation have been handled upon the advice of experts—men whose accurate and scientific knowledge extends to the minutest points.

In the past few years able men have realized that farming could be put upon the same basis—that instead of being of necessity a haphazard enterprise it is one of the most scientific businesses in the world—that it may be as accurate and as reliable as those processes of nature upon which it depends.

It has been realized also, that the principles of co-operation which have worked out such great things in the industrial world, may be used with equal effectiveness in the realm of agriculture.

To aid in the rapid spread of these ideas and principles seems to me to be a most useful and noble work, and one in which I would gladly have a part in Kentucky.

With this thought, I have decided to give an old fashioned barbecue at my home in Woodford County, near Versailles, on Wednesday, August 20th. It will be my aim to have matters along the lines I indicated discussed by some of the great agricultural experts of the country, and it will be my hope that this may give fresh impetus to the work in Kentucky for the farmers which is already so well begun.

Every Farmer, and every farmer's wife, and every one interested in better farming, in the state, who feels an interest in increasing the rewards of agriculture and in bettering the conditions of farm life, is most cordially and urgently invited to be my guest on August 20th. This invitation is given in the spirit of good fellowship, and the desire to help, and all who accept it will be most warmly welcomed.

Very sincerely,

J. N. Camden.

housing tobacco. It was not a show seen at all, but a thoroughly sanitary barn, with the emphasis on the word sanitary. Out in the woods pasture there were several bunches of fine sleek steers, some of which were destined to help feed the hungry crowd on Aug. 20.

The woods pasture, with its clear water, poplars, walnuts and sturdy oaks is an ideal place to handle the 20,000 people who are expected to be the guests at the farm on the day of the barbecue. In one end of this pasture there is a perfect amphitheater for seating those who wish to hear the speakers and the final concert which is to be provided.

Things are happening in our dear old state—better schools are building, better roads are being laid, Christmas movies for farmers are developing, and now a barbecue to which an invitation is given to each and every person who believes in the welfare and the future of the agriculture of the state is an assured fact. Men of vision are dreaming of a new Kentucky—a twentieth century Kentucky—and all the agencies mentioned are bringing the dream closer each day. Dreams do come true.
